

Testing of non-COVID respiratory pathogens including influenza across BILH sites will vary based on analyzer and testing supplies.

Availability of influenza A/B PCR only is limited and generally combination testing with COVID-19 PCR is necessary.

COVID-19 PCR results in a patient with a history of infection in the prior 90 days should be interpreted with caution and prolonged shedding of virus is possible. Please check with local Infection Control for questions about isolation.

Please check with your local laboratory for the most up-to-date information for your site.
